

Frantz Thodiard

CEO, Martinique Aimé Césaire International Airport

Conférence : Martinique Aimé Césaire Airport future expansion plan

Frantz THODIARD is Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Martinique Airport Company : “Société Aéroport Martinique Aimé Césaire” (SAMAC), the company managing the airport platform since 2012. A graduate engineer in Public Works, Frantz THODIARD held several positions in Paris and in the French West Indies, including the one of Director of port and airport concessions at the Chamber of Commerce and Industry of Martinique.

This professional experience and his new functions within SAMAC will allow him to implement a new development strategy for the Martinique Aimé Césaire Airport.

Always seeking excellence and particularly committed to the development of the territory, Frantz THODIARD works, with all his collaborators, to offer to Martinique, a reference tool for the economic and touristic development of the island.

Attentive to the development of overseas airports, he is President of the Commission of Overseas Airports within the Union of French and Francophone Airports. Frantz THODIARD is also very involved in the overall development of Martinique.

Deputy Mayor of Fort-de-France, he chairs the Planning Commission, bringing his expertise in the projects for the Local Urban Plan of Fort-de-France and leading the main infrastructure projects. He is also Vice-President of the “Communauté d'Agglomération Centre Martinique” (CACEM) in charge of water sports.
